DNC, foot-and-mouth disease, mad cow disease, avian flu, swine flu, etc. Animals are often seen as potential disease vectors. But what is the reality? With statistician Pierre Chaillot, we will explore the true origins of these diseases and attempt to explain, in particular, why the notions of viruses in animals, as in humans, are obsolete and pseudo-scientific, trapping us in a paradigm used to control us.

Farmers will also come to testify about their difficulties, as the authorities threaten them, sanction them, or hold their herds hostage in an economic attempt to force them to vaccinate. A totalitarian obscurantism that dare not speak its name.

Soon, all of this will be meaningless! The rebellion is growing, and a time will come when farmers will no longer report diseases, will isolate their animals themselves, and try to save them on their own! The prefect will no longer be informed... It's as simple as that! And woe betide anyone who denounces them! They've got nothing to lose... Let's never forget that if God made men free, it was John Colt who made them equal!

Vaccines and systematic culling of herds stem from the same sinister logic: the deliberate and meticulously programmed atomization of living beings through the creation of false risks and therefore false fears.

In 2020, people became afraid of their neighbors and even their own families.
Families were torn apart, and even strong couples divorced, following the mandatory vaccinations in certain professions.

By 2025, the fear of animals has escalated: after the fear of black cats and dogs, there will be fear of cows, sheep, pigs, and even poultry.
In short, we will be forcibly separated from all the animals that feed us.

All these fears of animals have only one single purpose: to fragment life to the extreme by forcing us to separate ourselves from our animals, in a process somewhat analogous to that described by Frank Pavlov in "Brown Morning" (16 pages).

This is the penultimate stage of our atomization.
From 2030 onwards, with the advent of the New World Order, we will have to fear cereals, as well as the fruits and vegetables in our gardens.

In short, we must be afraid of ourselves, and all rush to the slaughterhouse, of our own free will, of course.
Jacques Attali isn't dead yet; he's only 82 and still has a large following and is listened to very attentively.

Which world would you rather live in: one of extreme division, endless wars and the mountains of money they generate, or one of unity, peace, compassion, solidarity, mutual aid and the Love of Life?

With amplification techniques, they find the so-called "viruses" they are looking for as they please, even though there is no certainty between the link between a single sick animal in a herd and this "virus," which is probably inevitable and whose responsibility in the disease is by no means proven. Moreover, for them it is so vital to impose a society in which vaccination will be indispensable that they will stop at nothing.

In any case, we are always one or more steps behind their malicious intentions... the time it takes to understand, analyze and explain more or less what is happening, and to try as best we can to raise awareness and remedy the problem, through legal means, and we are behind.

That's where they constantly screw us over, and doubly so, since they control the legal channels.

While we should be anticipating all their dirty tricks—that is, killing rather than being killed, since we know perfectly well what they're after—we're really too kind.
And they know it.
It's certainly difficult to kill when you've never killed before.
Or is it?
Would you hesitate to kill an Israeli sniper who kills children?
